

Resilient and Wood Flooring

WORDS _Amrit Phull, M.Arch

Wood

1 Cool Nordic

Danish brand Dinesen makes its hardwood Ash line from trees already marked for felling as a result of damage by the emerald ash borer. Sourced from German and French forests, Ash is available in three oil-finished looks – Classic, Natural and White – and planks up to 30 centimetres wide. dinesen.com

2 Calculated Look

One of Paola Lenti's recent collaborations with Listone Giordano, Perigal follows unique geometries based on a mathematical theorem involving the dissection of squares. The modular tiles can be arranged into diverse patterns and are finished in a transparent oil-based stain. listonegiordano.com

3 Updated Classic

Timeless herringbone patterns are easy to achieve with Torly's Everest Twist hardwood. The Uniclic system is available in oak and walnut, and incorporates an integrated cork underlay that provides acoustic insulation, warmth and protection against mould and mildew. torlys.com

4 Plus-sized Planks

Harvested from Germany's Black Forest, Madera's Titan Balanced comprises massive European oak planks up to 20 feet long and 16 inches wide. The three-ply product incorporates a soft pine core to enhance stability. madera-trade.com

5 Sketch Pad

Thought bubbles, smiley faces and speech balloons decorate the surface of Hanky Panky, a playful parquet floor by Cyprus-based YO2. The tongue-and-groove system features an African oak top layer and comes in 15-centimetre-wide planks up to two metres long. It's suitable for residential or moderate commercial traffic. yoyo-designs.com

1

2

3

4

5

> MORE ONLINE

See additional flooring solutions at azuremagazine.com/product-guide

MILAN WAS MAD FOR YELLOW THIS YEAR. And it makes sense—you see this buttery, yolky hue on the stucco of 15th century palazzos and the occasional vintage Vespa whizzing by. Even the city’s signature saffron risotto adds a pop of the happy color to tabletops lining the streets in the Brera. From the dining chairs in Tom Dixon’s new restaurant/showroom, the Manzoni, to dessert plates by Laboratorio Paravicini, these bold debuts are like liquid sunshine.

— BENJAMIN REYNAERT

2

3

4

5

THE LASTEST 8

1

8

6

9

7

- 1 Walt Sofa by Francesco Rota for Paola Lenti
- 2 The Manzoni, designed by Tom Dixon
- 3 Phlox Cushion by Kvadrat x Raf Simons
- 4 Echino Small Table by Sebastian Herkner for Zanotta
- 5 Bulbo Chair by the Campana Brothers for Louis Vuitton
- 6 Dessert Plate Athletae Gymmetria #7 by Laboratorio Paravicini artemest.com
- 7 Dot Tray by David Derksen Design
- 8 Dolls Chair by Raw Edges for Louis Vuitton
- 9 Office by Jonathan Anderson for Vogue Living