production: Izabel Fonk - photos: Hans Fonk

These pages: the combined living, kitchen and dining area in the Amsterdam apartment designed in a Caribbean atmosphere by Debby Dunand for LOT1038, Curacao. Chairs are by Paola Lenti and the sofa & footstool are by Designers Guild. The small footstool is by Missoni. The steel frames were custom designed. The ceiling spots are by Delta light and the fan is by Haiku. The art is from the private collection of the owners Ruud Zegwaart and Debby Dunand.

These pages: by creation in their Amsterdam apartment a small balcony surrounded by custom made steel framed window, Debby Dunand gave the apartment an extra dimension of space. She wanted to create a piece of the Caribbean in the Dutch city by the playful use of colors and materials. In the back ground the round window of the bathroom and on the right the hallway to the entrance and the built in bedroom. The herringbone oak flooring has a built in heating system.

These pages: boathouse designed by Fernando
Dovigi, FMD Design, at her Lake Joseph cottage.
Sofa and rug by Paola Lenti. Coffee table by

Below: the boathouse and the cottage with the swimming pool and guest house. Although the complex is large, it disappears between the trees.

Along the shores of Lake Joseph in Muskoka is the cottage of the Dovigi family. Nestled among the trees and rocks, this is not your quintessential Muskoka summer home. Open and airy, with clean lines and large windows, the layered textures of the interior add warmth. A carefully curated art collection along with exquisite furniture selections fit perfectly throughout.

The home was designed by Fernanda Dovigi. The intent was to create a home that their extended family and friends could enjoy, no matter the age while at the same time keeping everyone connected regardless of what they were doing. And above all, a house that was directly connected to the woods and lake with great views on all sides.
